Mar Cor Purification Opens New Office and Training Center in Colorado

...New training center will focus on the CWP & WRO H hot water disinfection products acquired from Gambro

Plymouth, MN, (June 2011) Mar Cor Purification, a leading provider of 510(k) water purification products and services to the medical marketplace, has recently opened a new 4000 sq/ft office and training center in Golden, CO. The office will support the employees and products acquired from Gambro in 2010.

The new 1000 sq ft training center has capacity to train up to 14 people at a time in a classroom style setting. It has an operating CWP central RO, distribution loop and several WRO and WROH portable RO units. The 2-5 day training courses are very popular with the users of the CWP & WRO products, with over 250 users expected to be trained this year. Seminars will cover: Water System Components, AAMI Standards & FDA Guidance for Water Treatment Monitoring, Bacterial Treatment Concerns, RO Theory & Fundamentals, Cleaning & Disinfecting Issues and Training in Servicing a Water Treatment System.

In addition to the Colorado facility, Mar Cor also has a training center in its medical device manufacturing facility in Plymouth, MN and an online course to help its customers maintain their skill sets for operating water purification equipment. Mar Cor Purification continues to look for ways to provide its customers with training and support to manage the water purification operations in a clinic.
